

FLOWER ESSENCE REMEDIES - CONSULTATIONS AND USAGE

I, the client, understand that Flower Essences are not to be used as a substitute or replacement for proper medical care and that a Flower Essence Practitioner does not diagnose, treat, prescribe or cure for any medical or psychological condition. I am aware that some Flower Essences are preserved in a brandy/spring water solution, and hold the practitioner harmless of any liability regarding the alcohol content. Flower Essences should not be used as a replacement for proper medical care. Using flower essences is only a part of taking responsibility for your physical and emotional well-being. You are also responsible for researching and listening to your intuition about what foods benefit your body, what activities bring you joy and strength, and allowing for quiet contemplative time to help you reach greater clarity in your life's decisions.
